Admiralty-Office, July 30.

BY Letters received from Captain Douglas, of His Majeſty's Ship Iſis, dated at Quebec the 26th and 27th of laſt Month, it appears, That immediately after raiſing the Seige of Quebec, of which he gave an Account in his Letters of the 8th and 15th of May, every proper Meaſure was taken to facilitate the farther Operations againſt the Rebels, by ſending down the River all the Pilots which could be procured to bring up the Tranſports that were daily expected with General Burgoyne from England and Ireland; and, that no Time might be loſt on their Arrival, he had provided Pilots for the upper River, and placed Frigates and Armed Veſſels in proper Stations to aſſiſt, and eſcort them; and alſo, leſt the Tranſports ſhould be prevented by contrary Winds from ſailing up the River, he had ſtationed Veſſels with Proviſions at proper Places for the Uſe of the Troops, if they ſhould be obliged to diſembark and march by Land. By theſe Diſpoſitions, all the Tranſports with Troops, which had Pilots on Board, proceeded up the River without ſtopping at Quebec, and arrived at Three Rivers Time enough to defeat the Rebels, and afterwards drive them from St. John's, and all their Poſts below Lake Champlain. Captain Douglas in the ſame Letter ſays, that the prudent and ſpirited Behaviour of Captain Harvey, of the Martin Sloop, cannot be too much commended; and that the Zeal, Vigour, and Unanimity, of His Majeſty's Servants on both Elements was ſcarcely equalled on any other Occaſion within his Remembrance. He alſo writes that he was, in Concert with General Carleton, conſidering upon a proper Eſtabliſhment for Armed Veſſels to be employed on the Lakes Champlain and Ontario, and in contriving the moſt expeditious Means of getting them, with other Craft on the ſaid Lakes, in order to the better accelerating the Paſſage of the Army; and that Captain Harvey, of the Martin, was returning to Sorel, in order to examine into the Means of floating between Camels (as is practiſed in Ruſſia and Holland) through the Rapids of Chamble into Lake Champlain, the Six Armed Veſſels, one of which was already arrived from England, and the others hourly expected.
